LAST EDITION.

CABINET CHANGE.

Secretary Belknap Steps Down and Out.

By American Press Association to the STAR.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Secretary Belknap this morning tendered his resignation to the President, and it was promptly accepted. Mr. H. T. Crosby, Chief Clerk of the War Department, who is by law made the Acting Secretary of War during the absence of the Secretary, is to-day acting in that capacity. There are no positive indications as to who will succeed Mr. Belknap.

NEW YORK, March 2.—The Times' Washington special says Mr. Marsh, of New York, appeared before the Committee on Expenditures of the War Department yesterday, and testified that he had procured of Secretary Belknap a contract for certain Post traderships at Fort Sill and other points.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The precise nature of the charges against Secretary Belknap have not come to light, but enough is known to justify the statement that he profited largely by the letting of trading posts at Fort Sill and other points.

It is stated that the information came to the President the Secretary was notified that his resignation was desired, and it was prepared last night and promptly handed in the first thing this morning.

It is stated that the information is of such a positive character that no defense is attempted by his friends, and Republicans as well as Democrats were all decided in the opinion that he must at once retire.

It is claimed that a full showing will not only prove that Belknap has made a good thing himself but that he has made his position very profitable to his relatives and friends.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—One witness before the Clymer Committee testified that he had a regular contract for disposing of the trading posts in the Southwest, for which he had paid to the wife of the Secretary, $10,000, and continued to pay as long as he sold the passes $8,000 yearly.

He also testified to other frauds and corrupt acts of the Secretary, and produced records in evidence. He was subjected to a thorough cross-examination, but was not shaken. Secretary Belknap this forenoon confessed that the statements were true.

It is generally believed that Mr. John C. Now, of Indiana, at present United States Treasurer, will be tendered the position of Secretary of War.

IMPEACHMENT DEFEATED.

General Belknap and his friends say a full explanation of the subject can not be given at this time.

It seems that the Committee determined to report articles of impeachment against the General, and that account preferred not to hear his testimony until it was delivered before the Senate sitting as a Court of Impeachment.

The resignation of General Belknap having this morning been tendered to the President and promptly accepted, it is now thought that the Committee will agree to receive such testimony as General Belknap wishes to give.

HE TAKES IT TO HEART.

NEW YORK, March 2.—The Evening Post's Washington special says Secretary Belknap to-day had a long interview with the President and other members of the Cabinet. The result was that he tendered his resignation and it was accepted.

The Committee of the House will report this afternoon articles of impeachment. Belknap's friends say that he will commit suicide, as he takes the exposure so seriously to heart.

Lucky Resigns.

By American Press Association to the STAR.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Levi P. Luckey, Private Secretary to the President, this morning resigned.

NEW YORK.

The Weather—Belknap's Complication—The Labor Market—Nolan Resigned—Embezzling.

By American Press Association to the STAR.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Several inches of snow fell during last night. The weather is now clear and pleasant.

The Herald Washington special says Secretary Belknap will probably resign to-day. Discoveries have been made by the Clymer Investigating Committee which are of such a nature as to make his remaining in the Cabinet impossible.

The Committee is preparing a statement, which will be official, and publicly made to the House to-day. The transactions are connected with post trading points.

A view of the present standing of the labor market here shows that mechanical industries have not recovered from the financial depression caused by the panic of 1873. The number of hands employed seems to be steadily decreasing, and wages are also decreasing. The Trades' Unions here have about fifty-eight thousand members, of whom twenty-one thousand five hundred are idle. The building trades have suffered most.

The following will give an idea of the number of laborers idle and belonging to societies: Carpenters, 150 society, and 4,000 non-society; bricklayers, 300 society, 2,000 non-society; stone cutters, 400 society, 500 non-society; stone masons, 100 society, 800 non-society; plasterers, 125 society, 1,300 non-society; shoemakers, 200 society, 900 non-society; brass molders and finishers, 40 society, 60 non-society; fresco painters, 40 society; painters, 150 society, 500 non-society; carriage builders, 40 society, 350 non-society; cabinet-makers, 100 society, 1,000 non-society; and about 5,000 belonging to other trades.

Advices from Albany state that Governor Tilden has given Nolan, the murderer of Noe, a respite until April 14, to allow the Court of Appeals time to act upon his case.

Jas. Green, a clerk employed by Dorra, Fanning & Co., silk importers, on Franklin street, has been arrested, charged with robbing his employers of goods valued at $20,000.

FOREIGN.

By American Press Association to the STAR.

ANNIHILATING CARLIST PROVINCES.

MADRID, March 2.—A resolution will shortly be offered in the Cortes declaring that the Carlist Provinces of Bisaya and Navarre shall cease to exist as separate Provinces, and calling upon the Government to apportion the territory among the adjacent Provinces.

PARIS, March 2.—Don Carlos has left Pau for England. Count Resat has gone to Cannes.

VON ARMIN.

LONDON, March 2.—A special from Berlin says Emperor William refused to allow Von Armin to visit his son, who is ill. He has not yet answered the petition of Von Armin's family for the Count's pardon. He was summoned to appear before the High Court of State on the 21st of February, but he disregarded the summons, which was delivered to him by the German Consul at Florence. It is stated that the Berlin Foreign Office has preferred an accusation against Von Armin embracing the charge of high treason and insulting the Emperor, Prince Bismarck and the Foreign Office.

MINISTER SCHENCK AND LITTLE ENMA.

LONDON, March 2.—The Times this morning has a dispatch from Washington three-quarters of a column in length, giving the gist of Lyon's testimony yesterday before the Legislative Committee, and intended to inquire into the Emma Mine scandal. It is stated that Minister Schenck will to-morrow publish a letter denouncing Lyon's evidence as a tissue of infamous falsehoods, and announcing his intention to sail for New York in the steamship Abyssinia Saturday evening.

It is also understood that Schenck has obtained leave of absence for the special purpose of exposing Lyons and vindicating himself before the Committee and the world. Minister Schenck this morning telegraphed his attorney to proceed to Washington immediately to retain the services of Wm. M. Evans, and to have Messrs. Park and Stewart re-summoned to appear before the Committee for re-examination. One of the Minister's daughters will accompany him on his return to America.

WINSLOW, THE BOSTON FORGER.

LONDON, March 2.—Winslow, the Boston forger, was again brought up in Court to-day, but was remanded until to-morrow to await the receipt from the foreign office of documents having an important bearing upon the case, the production of which was demanded by the Consul.

Winslow was allowed to be seated during the examination in Court to-day. He told interviewers that he was "Tired," and his wife and sister still complained of the treatment which they received at the hands of the police at Rotterdam.

Winslow's friends in America have sent a telegram to Mr. Saint Wilmer, a lawyer, retaining him for the defense of Winslow in London. This was, however, against the wish of Winslow himself.

He has decided that he will not appeal against the extradition. His wife and family will accompany him back to the United States, taking the same steamer. The prison authorities continue the same kind of treatment towards Winslow that they have hitherto observed.

They do not allow him to read the newspapers, but give him a plentiful supply of books. He is not required to clean his own cell nor to do anything menial.

His health is much affected lately, and his face is pale and haggard, as if suffering from anxiety. His wife and sister look careworn. Detective Dearborn is looking at the Longham Hall.

FINANCIAL.

LONDON, March 2.—The Times financial article says the United States railroad bonds are steady and prices unchanged.

AGAIN THE FLOODS CAME.

BERLIN, March 2.—The inundation of the rivers in Eastern Prussia is spreading and many lives have been lost. At Posen, on the River Warta, the loss of life has been great. Along the Danube over fifty persons have been drowned. The Hungarian villages along the Danube are nineteen feet under water. The new part of Pesth is in ruins.

A DEMAND.

A bill was also passed recommending the people of the United States to assemble in their respective counties and towns on the approaching Centennial, and that there should be delivered an historical sketch of such county or town from its original settlement; copies to be filed in the County Clerk's office and the Library of Congress, so that a complete record may be had of the progress of the Republic. LATEST LOCAL.

THE case of W. T. Marshall was resumed, and the testimony for the defense heard. Case in progress.

A HEAVY feed wagon broke down in the ruins of Hunt street this morning, and a hay wagon is stuck in the mud in the same locality.

JOSEPH DOOLEY, Albert Marshall, James Murray, James Truiston and John Buer have been arrested for an assault upon Pat Harding, on the Montgomery Road, yesterday. Their cases have not been disposed of.

On 'Change.

The Bridge Committee to-day reported a resolution petitioning Congress to let the law in regard to draws on bridges to be hereafter built across the Ohio River remain as it is, and it was adopted. Several amendments to the resolution were voted down.

The Bold Mashers.

W. H. Woodcock and W. D. Fleming, the big, overgrown babies from Kentucky, who attended the Mardi Gras ball at the Exposition building Tuesday night, with each a big six-shooter strapped to their delicate bodies, and during a difficulty with each other in that crowded ball room, pulled their weapons and proceeded to bang away promiscuously at each other, while hundreds of people who were around them engaged in the enjoyment of the festivities of the occasion were in imminent jeopardy of being shot, made their appearance in the Police Court this morning to answer three charges growing out of their originally careless and contemptible conduct, viz.: "shooting with intent to kill," "careless shooting" and "carrying concealed weapons." By agreement, the first charge was dismissed. On the second they paid $10 and costs, and on the last $15 and costs.

They can thank their stars that they are not required to serve at rock-smashing for a good round term with the pioneer brigade at the Work-house, for it is about time that these high-toned (?) and fine-haired mashers from the sacred soil of Kentucky should be made to understand that if they want to get out of each other let them go out in some field in the "garden spot of the world, sah," their native land, and there vindicate their "honor, sah, be-gawd, sah," by shooting each other's empty heads into everlasting space; but in the name of decency and order when they come this side of the river and are permitted to mingle with genuine gentlemen and ladies, let them leave their cannon, brass ornaments, and senseless drive about personal "honor" and family feuds behind them.
